MINISTER IS MISSING

Rev. C. E. Hayward, Broken in Health, May Be Insane

His family urged him to go away and he finally consented to visit his brother in Windsor for a short time. He left, saying he would return Sunday, April 2. It was his intention to go to Windsor and drive from that town to Felchville, to attend to his duties there as pastor of the Universalist church on Sunday. He did not return Sunday and on Saturday afternoon his wife received a letter written apparently under great mental strain, stating he was about to leave the country and would not return. The letter country and would not return. The letter contained contradicting statements. Inquiry revealed the fact that he had called on his brother at Windsor and left saying that he was going to Hartland, and would return Friday evening.

He has not been seen since.

Rev. Mr. Hayward is 43 years of age, of slight but athletic build, weighs 150 pounds, is 5 feet 6 inches in height, smooth shaven, wears spectacles and is very erect. When last seen he wore a black coat and vest and dark striped trousers, dark brown overcoat, black derby. He was a man of the highest personal character and there seems to be no explanation for his absence. He was born in Keene, May 22, 1868, the son of George Hayward. He attended Williams college three years and was a member of the class of 1896. He graduated from Chicago theological seminary and has been pastor of Congregational churches in East Fairfield, Jericho Centre and Putney.

He went to Springfield from Putney in 1904 and was secretary and physical director of the Y. M. C. U. three years. Since that time he has been clerk in the grocery store, has been conducting a laundry and has also been supplying the church in Felchville. He has a wife and two children.

Tom L. Johnson, Noted ex-Mayor of Cleveland, Dead.

Tom L. Johnson, 57, twice Congressman from the 21st Ohlo district, four times mayor of Cleveland, champion of threemayor of Cleveland, champion of three-cent street railway fares and prominent advocate of the single tax theories of the late Henry George, died in Cleveland Monday night from cirrhosis of the liver after a long illness. Mr. Johnson was a native of Blue Spring, Ky., and his father, Gen. William Johnson, was a famous legislator of the Blue Grass state who lost his forume in the Civil war. who lost his fortune in the Civil war. Young Tom Johnson, thrown on his own resources, began work as a horse car driver in Louisville at the age of 15. His first success was as an inventor. He devised a nickel in the slot machine for street cars, an automatic switch and other appliances. At 22 he was ready to step into the business world, acquiring an interest in a small street car line in Indianapolis. He soon became interested Indianapolis. He soon became interested also in the traction system of Detroit, Cleveland and Brooklyn.

He was practically at the height of a very successful career as a street railway magnate when, in 1888, he retired from business to carry out cherished ideas of social reforms, among which was that of three-cent street railway. was that of three-cent street railway farcs. Johnson was defeated for a third term n Congress in the Republican landslide n 1894, but in 1901 he was elected mayor of Cleveland, and he then began his real life's work of establishing three-cent car fare. For years he kept up the fight, and as a result Cleveland today still has the three cent fare, although not under ex-actly the conditions he had hoped for His various terms as mayor were marked ilege with the result that he quickly won the title of "mayor of the best governed city in the United States." In 1903 he ran for governor and was defeated, but he was elected mayor again in 1905. He met final defeat in 1909.

Representative David J. Foster of the First Vermont district has been appoint-ed by President Taft chairman of the delegation which will represent the United States at the international agri-cultural conference to be held two weeks in Rome, Italy, beginning May 14. The other members are Charles F. Scott of Kansas, former chairman of the House committee on agriculture; Victor H. Olmstead, statistician of the agricultural department; E. Dana Durand, director of the census; and Gen. E. R. Champlin of Massachusetts.

ATHLETIC EXHIBITION MONDAY.

Boys in Training Under Miner and Tasker Have Some Surprises in Store-Pro ceeds for New Equipment.

The members of the Magnet club will give their second public exhibition in the Auditorium next Monday evening. Under the direction of Roy B, Miner and John E. Tasker the athletic prowess of the boys has developed to a degree that warrants their promise of an interesting and varied program, and those who have seen them at practice are enthusiastic over their work. Since the club was organized it has had to get along with a limited amount of gymnastic appartus in its Rev. Charles E. Hayward left his home in Springfield Friday morning, March 31, and has not been seen since noon of the same day. He is believed to be mentally unbalanced. Mr. Hayward is proprietor of a laundry in Springfield and the business has necessitated his constant attention. For some weeks he has shown signs of a mental and physical breakdown.

BODY IN RESERVOIR

The body of Mrs. Mary A. Purrinton of Bellows Falls, who disappeared from the Brattleboro Retreat on the evening of Nov. 28 last, was found in the Chest-nut Hill reservoir about 12.40 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Although it had been in the water more than four months it was not badly decomposed and was identified easily. Several boys were playing along the shores of the reservoir Saturday morning and were throwing stones into the water and upon the ice, object was. Mr. Gray took a long pole and went to the reservoir, which is but a short distance from his home. After breaking the ice he hauled the object ashore and was startled to discover that it was a human body. It had been frozen in the ice about 20 feet from the northern end of the pond. He surmised that it was the body of Mrs, Purrinton and told boys' club those in charge of the program are looking forward to a good-sized audience. The people of the town already know about the work of the Magnet club and the part it has taken in the athletic advancement of the rising generation.

Edwin A. Nutt, 60, official reporter of the House in the last four sessions of the Vermont legislature, died Monday morning in the Heaton hospital in Montpelier. He was worn out by overwork during the last session of the legislature and died for the pond. He surmised that it was the body of Mrs, Purrinton and told his son to notifig H. A. Palmer, who was an intimate friend of the missing woman and who lives in the house with Mr. Gray. Mr. Palmer hurried to the scene and quickly identified the body. First Selectman Galvin was also notified and he and Dr. F. H. O'Connor soon arrived. Dr. O'Connor examined the body, which was beginning to decompose about the extremities. He expressed the opinion that although there was little danger of contamination up to that time it would be best to draw all water from the last session of the legislature and died reservoir and fill it anew. About the body a vegetable growth had begun to form, but this would not be apt to con-

sion at the office of the Refreat to go out. She had been a patient there only a few weeks and had been allowed to go in and out at will. About 6 o'clock the officials at the Refreat became suspicious

To Savings Bank Depositors

The Lamoille County Savings Bank & Trust Company of Hyde Park, Vermont, will receive your deposits on the most favorable terms consistent with safe and conservative banking.

Among the many reasons why you may properly give this bank the preference in choosing a place for depositing your savings it suggests the following:—
FIRST—The Bank is a Vermont institution. Aside from its deposits in reserve cities, it has never loaned a dollar upon notes which were not either secured upor Vermont property or had a strong Vermont guaranter. SECOND.—In its more than twenty-two years of existence it has been so painstaking, conservative and careful in the investment of funds placed within its keeping by a confiding public that it has never lost a single dollar by bad note. THIRD .- It pays four per cent interest, compounds semi-annually without action on the part of the depositor, and pays all taxes on deposits, whatever the amount of the deposit may be. FOURTH-Its managers are men known to the people of the State as ultra conservative in matters of investments-men who never speculate on Wall Street or own speculative stocks of any kind. FIFTH.-Absolute safety and not those high rates of interest which can be sehigh rates of interest which can be secured by taking chances, has ever been the guiding principle of this bank. It never owned a note upon which it received more than six per cent interest.

SIXTH.—It has now passed the Two Million Dollar mark in assets, a fact which speaks louder than words of the faith and confidence felt by the people of Vermont in this strictly home Savings Bank. No other Savings Bank located in a small village like Hyde Park, approaches the Hyde Park Savings Bank in growth, a fact which cannot be explained growth, a fact which cannot be explained upon other theory than that of absolute confidence in the painstaking watchfulb. 7 for 25 ness and sound judgment of the men who direct and govern in the investment of the funds entrusted to its keeping by a discriminating public.
